SUPPLEMENT TO The Calcutta Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1864.

OFFICIAL PAPERS.

A SUPPLEMENT to the GAZETTE will henceforward be published, containing such Official Papers and Information as the Government of Bengal may deem to be of interest to the Public, and such as may usefully be made known.

Non-Subscribers to the GAZETTE may receive the SUPPLEMENT separately on a payment of six Rupees per annum if delivered in Calcutta, or twelve Rupees if sent by Post.

No Official Orders or Notifications, the publication of which in the GAZETTE is required by Law, or which it has been customary to publish in the GAZETTE, will be included in the SUPPLEMENT. For such Orders and Notifications the body of the GAZETTE must be looked to as heretofore.

Depth of the Channel leading to the Port of Chittagong.

From W. GORDON YOUNG, Esq., Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 36, dated the 28th September 1864.)

THERE being reason to believe that the Channel leading to this Port from the Sea was deeper than was generally supposed, Mr. Bamber, the Port Conservator, has lately had careful soundings taken, and from these it appears that the depth of water in the shallowest part of the Channel at low water is $16\frac{1}{2}$ feet at Neap Tides, and 12 feet at Spring Tides. As it thus appears that the water has decidedly deepened since the charts now in use were prepared, I would suggest that the fact be published in the Gazette Supplement, or otherwise made known to those concerned.

2. As many inquiries have lately been made as to the trade and other matters connected with this Port, I would take the opportunity of publishing at the same time an extract from a recent note written by Mr. Bamber in reply to some questions put to us by a Calcutta Mercantile House.

Memorandum from LIEUTENANT-COLONEL H. HOPKINSON, Agent, Governor General, and Commissioner of Assam,—(No. 47, dated the 28th May 1864.)

FORWARDED to the Under-Secretary to Government of Bengal with reference to correspondence noted in the margin.

From Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, No. 3303, dated 5th May 1863.

The undersigned begs to recommend that the Establishment proposed by Lieutenant Thackeray may be entertained, and that the clearance of the portion of the river referred to may be conducted under the supervision of the Deputy Commissioner of Luckimpore.

From CAPTAIN A. K. COMBER, Deputy Commissioner of Luckimpore, to LIEUTENANT-COLONEL H. HOPKINSON, Commissioner of Assam,—(No. 4B., dated the 21st May 1864.)

IN continuation of my letter No. 5 of the 19th January last, I have the honor to forward an Estimate of the probable cost of keeping clear the navigation of the Berhampooter River above and below Suddya.

UPPER ASSAM DIVISION.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT DEPARTMENT.

No. 5 of 1864-65.

Estimate by Lieutenant Thackeray, R. E., of the probable expense of maintaining an Establishment to keep clear the navigation of the Berhampooter above and below Suddya.

REFERENCES.—Letter No. 14, dated 23rd October 1863, from the Personal Assistant to the Commissioner of Assam, to the Deputy Commissioner of Luckimpore.

REFERENCES.—Letter No. 14. of the 6th May 1864, from the Personal Assistant to the Commissioner of Assam, to the Deputy Commissioner of Luckimpore.

REPORT.—Steamers drawing less than five feet of water and provided with Pilots well acquainted with the river may ascend the Berhampooter as far as Pobah at all times of the year unless the water in the river is unusually low; but above the junctions of the Dehong and Berhampooter Rivers the navigation for four or five months of the year would be impeded by shifting sand banks which change their position, and which could not be removed without great labour and expenditure.

2. There are also several large snags near Suddya, one nearly opposite to the Station, which on the 20th January last, when the river was almost at its lowest tide, scarcely protended from the water.

3. Another large one is about half way between Saikhwah and Suddya, one opposite Saikhwah, two at the junction of the Berhampooter and Dehong River, and two large ones opposite Pobah. These are the most formidable snags and can be removed by carpenters and coolies.

4. In January last there were also several smaller snags between Suddya and the junction of the Dehong and Berhampooter Rivers, but these on the 7th of this month were not visible, and for seven or eight months would not impede the navigation of the river.

5. Large trees are washed down the river during the rains of each year, thus forming new impediments, while the old snags are washed away or change their position, so that an exact estimate cannot be prepared for the complete removal of all impediments, and the best way seems to be to maintain an Establishment for five months during the cold weather. The men thus entertained would remain on the river, and would remove the snags, so as to keep the river clear for eight or nine months, during which time it would be navigable for Steamers above Pobah. The first snags to be removed would be those at the junction of the Dehong and Berhampooter Rivers.

6. The superintendence of the other works in this large Division has taken up all my time, and I have been unable as yet to examine the river above Suddya; but Serjeant McCarthy, an Assistant Overseer in this Division, reports that by removing a few snags the river would be made navigable for Steamers for six months of the year as far as the Noa Dehing.

Papers regarding the Rule to be observed by Steamers meeting or passing Vessels at anchor in the River Hooghly.

From CAPTAIN H. HOWE, Deputy Master Attendant in charge, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 2284, dated the 27th September 1864.)

WITH reference to my letter No. 2150 of the 13th instant, I have the honor to submit a further communication on the subject of the Rule of the road in the Hooghly.

2. The necessity for this has arisen from the repeated declarations of Pilots of standing and experience that there is no Rule applicable to the case of a Steamer meeting or passing a Vessel at anchor, this statement having now again been made before a Committee of Enquiry by two Branch Pilots, showing the necessity of prompt dealing with mistaken views of so mischievous a tendency.

3. I have accordingly issued a Memorandum to the Pilot Service on the subject, copy of which is submitted for the Lieutenant-Governor's information, in order that this phase of the question may come under His Honor's consideration, together with that already before him.

4. The occasion for this Memorandum is set forth at length in the document itself, and I need not unnecessarily take up His Honor's time by repeating what will be read therein, neither is it necessary to trouble His Honor with the proceedings of the Committee of Enquiry in this case, as I am not prepared to recommend any punishment to be inflicted on the Pilot of the Calomet, a young Licensed Pilot, for a want of judgment and an ignorance of the applicability of the law in which he is supported by so many Officers of long standing and experience. But after what I trust will be considered a clear exposition of the bearing and meaning of the law, I should be disposed to visit any future wilful breach of it very severely.

believe that the present want of appreciation of the meaning of the law is the two Rules in which it is laid down being printed in one in our Pilot's Code, which has led Pilots to entertain the idea that the Rule is intended only for Steamers and sailing Vessels meeting, overlooking the second part of the Rule which provides for Steamers navigating rivers under other circumstances.

6. An extract of the Merchant Shipping Act showing the Rules quoted in my Memorandum is annexed, as also extract of the Rule 48 in our Pilot Code.

7. The passages from the Shipping Act which I have underlined in my Memorandum, abundantly support, I submit, the views I have propounded to the Service, and I trust His Honor will approve of them.

Memorandum by CAPTAIN H. HOWE, Deputy Master Attendant in charge,—(No. 2266, dated the 26th September 1864.)

In the case of the collision between the Ships Calomet and Nouvelle Ascension on the 15th September, which has been made the subject of enquiry before a Committee, it appears by the evidence that the Nouvelle Ascension was at anchor in the channel off Moneekolly Point, with sufficient room for Ships to pass on either side.

2. The Calomet in tow of the Dwarkanauth passing up at top of high water attempted to pass the Nouvelle Ascension on the port side; the head of the Nouvelle Ascension being up the river, bearing about N. by W. nearly on a line with the Calomet's course.

3. On approaching the Nouvelle Ascension, the Calomet and her Tug began to sheer about a great deal, and at length the Calomet ran into the Nouvelle Ascension, doing considerable damage.

4. The Committee find that the accident was caused by the strong eddies, and that there is no blame attributable to the Pilots of the respective Vessels; but after re-assembling, under direction, to take further evidence, in the course of which two Branch Pilots of experience stated that they knew of no Rule compelling Vessels to pass Vessels at anchor on any particular side, the President recorded a Minute to the effect that in his opinion a Vessel towed by steam should be bound by the Rules of the road applicable to Steam Vessels, consequently the Pilot of the Calomet should have directed the Commander of the Steamer Dwarkanauth to keep on the starboard side of the channel, as from the fact of two Vessels having passed the Nouvelle Ascension on that side previous to the collision, there must have been ample room for the Calomet, with the assistance of the Steamer, to have passed also.

5. In this opinion the Deputy Master Attendant entirely concurs, and considers that the Calomet was endeavouring to pass on the wrong side of the channel.

6. On the question of the Rule, which is ignored by many Officers, the Deputy Master Attendant in charge feels bound, in the face of the collisions which are becoming of such frequent occurrence, to call the special attention of the Officers of the Pilot Service to the fact that there is a Rule, and a very stringent one. It is not likely that the Legislature would have left us without a Rule applicable to all occasions of Steamers navigating rivers and narrow channels.

7. It will be found, then, that the Rule No. 48 in the book of Rules for the guidance of Running Pilots is, on this point, of a two-fold nature; the first part relates to Steamers meeting; and the second part distinctly provides that every Steam Vessel navigating any river shall keep, as far as practicable, to the side of the fairway or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such Vessel.

8. In the Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, 17 and 18 V. C. 104, these are two distinct Rules, Nos. 296 and 297; in our Pilot Rules they form one paragraph, but are divided into two Rules by a full stop.

9. The second Rule, then, or No. 297 of the Act, meets the cases of Steamers navigating a river under every possible contingency (unless some obstacle be in the way) which is not provided for by Rule No. 296 of the Act, or the first part of the Rule in our Pilot's Code.

10. Steamers meeting are to pass on the port side of each other; and a Steamer navigating a river is to keep, whenever safe and practicable, on that side of the channel which lies on the starboard side of such Steamer.

11. An observance of this Rule, whenever it is practicable, will obviate all doubts as to which side of a Ship at anchor a Steamer is to pass, and Pilots are warned of the responsibility they incur by non-observance of the Rule; the Act providing that if in case of collision it appears that such was caused by the non-observance of any Rule for the exhibition of lights, &c., or of the foregoing Rule as to the passing of steam and sailing Ships, or of the foregoing Rule as to a Steamship keeping to that side of a narrow channel which lies on the starboard side, the owner of the Ship by which such Rule has been infringed is not entitled to recover any recompense whatever for any damage sustained by such Ship in such collision, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Court that the circumstances of the case made a departure from the Rule necessary; and any damage arising from the non-observance of any of the said Rules is to be deemed to have been occasioned by the wilful default of the person in charge of the deck at the time, unless it is satisfactorily shown that the circumstances of the case made a departure from the Rule necessary.

12. The Calomet was not observing this Rule, and there was no obstacle in her way; had she done so, there is every probability that she would have gone clear.

Extract from Rules for the guidance of Running Pilots.

STEAMERS meeting are to pass each other on the port side. Steamers, with or without Ships in tow, likely to meet in a narrow passage, or when, from another Vessel being in the way, it may be difficult to pass, the one going against tide is to ease her steam until the other has cleared the difficulty. Every Steam Vessel navigating any river or narrow channel shall keep, as far as practicable, to that side of the fairway or mid-channel of such river or channel which lies on the starboard side of such Vessel, due regard being had to the tide and to the position of each Vessel in such tide. Steam Vessels under weigh are to be considered in the light of sailing Vessels navigating with a fair wind, and are to give way to sailing Vessels on a wind on either tack.

EXTRACT, MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1854.

Safety and Prevention of Accidents.Lights and Fog Signals and Meeting and Passing.

WHENEVER any Ship, whether a Steam or Sailing Ship, proceeding in one direction, meets another Ship, whether a Steam or Sailing Ship, proceeding in another direction, so that, if both Ships were to continue their respective courses, they would pass so near as to involve any risk of a collision, the helms of both Ships must be put to port, so as to pass on the port side of each other; and this Rule must be obeyed by all Steam-ships and by all sailing Ships, whether on the port or starboard tack, and whether close-hauled or not, unless the circumstances of the case are such as to render a departure from the Rule necessary in order to avoid immediate danger, and subject also to the provision that due regard must be had to the dangers of navigation, and as regards Sailing Ships on the starboard tack close-hauled to the keeping such Ships under command.—§ 296.

Every Steam-ship when navigating any narrow channel must, whenever it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such Steam-ship.—§ 297.

If in any case of collision it appears to the Court before which the case is tried that such collision was occasioned by the non-observance of any Rule for the exhibition of lights, or the use of fog signals, issued in pursuance of the powers hereinbefore contained, of the foregoing Rule as to the passing of Steam and Sailing Ships, or of the foregoing Rule as to a Steam-ship keeping to that side of a narrow channel which lies on the starboard side, the owner of the Ship by which such Rule has been infringed is not entitled to recover any recompence whatever for any damage sustained by such Ship in such collision, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Court that the circumstances of the case made a departure from the Rule necessary.—§ 298.

In case any damage to person or property arises from the non-observance by any Ship of any of the said Rules, such damage is to be deemed to have been occasioned by the wilful default of the person in charge of the deck of such Ship at the time, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Court that the circumstances of the case made a departure from the Rule necessary.—§ 299.

From S. C. BAYLEY, Esq., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Deputy Master Attendant in charge,—(No. 4474, dated the 25th October 1864.)

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 2284, dated the 27th ultimo, with its accompanying Memorandum, and in reply to inform you that the Lieutenant-Governor approves of your interpretation of the law regarding the Rule to be followed in the River Hooghly in a case in which a Steamer meets or passes a Vessel at anchor.
